SELECT POETRY.

The following poem was written by the late Dr. H. Harbaugh, and first appeared in his magazine, The Guardian. A quaint originality pervades it throughout. Those who understand the Pennsylvania patois, will find it a rare treat. We shall give a translation next week:

HAEMWEH.

I.

Ich wees net was die Ursach is'—
Wees net warum Ich's thu'
En jedes yohr mach Ich der Weg
Der alte Haemath zu.
Hab weiters nix Zu suche' dort—
Ke Erbschaft un ke Geld;
Un' doch treibt mich das Haem-gafuehl
So stark wie alle Welt;
Nord start Ich ewa ab, un geh'
Wie owa schon gemelt.

II.

Wie naecher das Ich komm zum Ziel,
Wie sterker will Ich geh;
For eppes in meim Hertz werd letz
Un' thut mir kreislich weh—
Der letschte Hivel spring Ich nuf,
Un' eps Ich drowa bin
Streck Ich mich uf so hoch Ich kan
Un' guk mit luschta hin,
Ich seh's alt Stehaus durch die Baeme,
Un' wot Ich wer schon drin.

III.

Guk wie der Kuecha Schanshte schmok'd—
Wie oft hab Ich sel k'seh!
Wann ich draus in de Felder war,
A Buwele yung un' kle.
O sensecht die Fenschter scheibe dort?
Sie gucke roth wie Blut;
Hab oft considert,—doch net g'wist,
Das sell die Sonn so thut;
Ya, manches wees en kind noch net—
Wan's deht, wers a' net gut!

IV.

Wie gleich Ich selle Babble Baeme
Sie stehn wie Brueder daar;
Un' uf em Gippel—g'wis Ich leb!
Hockt alleweil e' Staar!
S' Gippel buegt sich—guk wie's gaunsched—
Er hebt sich awer fescht.
Ich seh sei rothe flugela plain,
Wan er sei Fettere wescht;
Will wetta das sei Fraule hot
Uf sellem Bame a Nescht!

V.

O, es gedenkt mir noch ganz gut,
We selle verry Baeme,
Net groeser als en Welshkorn-stock,
Gebrocht sin warra Haeme.
Die Mamme war ans Grandat's g'west,
Dort warra Baeme wie die;
Drei Wiplein hot sie mit gebrocht
Un' g' sat: "Dort plantzt sie hie."
Mir hens gethu—un' glabscht dus now—
Dort, selle Baeme sin sie!

VI.

Guk!—werklich Ich bin schier am Haus!—
Wie schnell get doch die Zeit!
Wamm m'r so in Gedanke geht
So werts m'r net wie weit.
Dort is der shop, die welshkorn Crib,
Die Cider-press dort drahs;
Dort is die Scheur, un dort die Spring—
Frish quellt das Wasser raus;
Un' guk! die same alt klapbord Fens,
Un's Taerle vor em Haus.

VII.

Alles is still!—sie wissa net
Das Epper Fremdes kommt.
Ich denk der alte Watch is Tod,
Schonst wer er raus gejumpt;
For er hot als vorschinert brillt
Wan er hot's Taerle g'hoert;
Es war d'a Travlers greislich bang,
Sie werra gans verstehrt;
Ke g'fohr—er hot paar mol gegautzt,
Nord is er um gekert.

VIII.

Alles is still!—die Tare is zu!
Ich steh—besinne mich!
Es rappelt doch e wenig now
Dort hinna in der Kuech.
Ich geh net nei—Ich kann noch net!
Mei Hertz fuelt schwer un' krank;
Ich geh e wenig uf die Borch
Un hok mich uf die Bank—
Es seht mich niemand wan ich heul,
Hinter der Trauwarank!

IX.

Zwe Blaetz sin do uf derra Borch,
Die halt Ich hoch in acht,
Bis meines Leben's Sonn versinkt
In stiller Todes Nacht!
Wo ich vom alte Vater-haus
S'erscht mol bin ganga fort,
Stand mei Mamme weinend da
An sellem Riegel dort!
Un nix is mir so heilig now
Als grada seller Ort!

X.

Ich kann sie Heut noch schna steh
Ihr Schnuptuch in der Hand;
Die Backa roth—die Auge nass—
O wie sie doch do stand!
Dort gab Ich ihr my Ferrewell,
Un' weinte als Ich's gab,
S' war's letzte mol in derra Welt,
Das Ich's ihr gewa hab!
Before Ich widder komma bin
War sie in ihrem Grab!

XI.

Now wan Ich an my Mamme denk,
Un' mane Ich det sie seh,
So steht sie an dem Riegel dort,
Un' weint weil Ich wek geh!
Ich seh sie net im Schockle Stuhl,
Net an kem annere Ort—
Ich denk net an sie als im Grab—
Yuscht steht sie immer vor mein Hertz
Un' weint noch liebreich fort!

XII.

Was machts das Ich so dorthie guk,
An sell End von der Bank!
Wescht du's? Mei Hertz is noch net tod,
Ich wees es—Gott sei dank!
Wie manchmal sats mei Tatty dort
Am Sommer Nachmittag?
Die Handen uf der schoos gekreitzt—
Sei Stock bei seite lag.
Was hot er dort im stilla denkt
Wer moecht es wissa—Sag?

XIII.

Veleicht is es e kindheit's Traum,
Das ihn so sanft bewegt;
Oder is er e Yungling jetzt,
Der Schoena Planna legt!
Er hebt sei Auga uf yuscht now,
Un' gukt weit ueber's Feld,
Er seht veleicht der Kirchhof dort,
Der schon die Mamme baelt!
Er sehnt verleicht nach seiner Ruh
Dort in der bessere Welt!

XIV.

Ich wees net soll Ich nei in's Haus—
Ich zitter an der Tehr!
Es is wol alles foll inside,
Un' doch is alles lehr!
'Sis net meh Haem wie's emol war
Un kans a nimme sei;
Was naus mit unsere Eltere geht,
Kommt Ewig nimme nei!
Die Freude hat der Tod ge-ernt,
Das Trauertheil is mei!

XV.

So geths in derra rauhe Welt
Wo alles mus vergeh!
Ya, in der alte Haemath gar,
Fuehlt m'r sich all alleh!
O wan's net fuhr den Himmel wer,
Mit seiner schoene Ruh,
Dann wer's m'r do schon lang verlaed,
Ich wisst net was Z' thu,
Doch Hoffnung leuchtet meinem Weg
Der ew'gen Haemath Zu.

XVI.

Dort is en schon,' schon' Fater-haus;
Dort geht m'r nimme fort;
Es weint ke gute Mamme meh
In sellem freude Ort.
Ke Tatte sucht meh for en Grab,
Wo was er lieb hat liegt!
Sell is ke Elend-Welt wie die,
Wo alle Lusceht betruegt;
Dort hat das Lewa ewiglich,
Ueber den Tod gesiegt.

XVII.

Dort find m'r was m'r do verliert,
Un' palts in Ewigkeit;
Dort Lewa unsere Tode all
In licht un' ewiger Freud!
Wie oft, wan Ich in Truwell bin,
Denk ich an selle Ruh,
Un wot, wan's nur Gott's Wille wer,
Ich ging ihr schneller Zu,
Doch wart Ich bis mei Stunde Schlaegt,
Nort sag Ich—Welt, Adieu!

ONLY A DOLLAR.

"She sews very nicely," said Mr. Wharton: "really, very nice indeed. And if you have any work you wish done well and cheaply, I would advise you to employ her."

Mrs. Wharton was sitting before the bright fire of anthracite coal, in her crimson silk morning wrapper, with her glossy hair smooth as satin, and her pretty hands, loaded with rich rings, lying in her lap. She felt that she was doing a charitable deed in employing this poor and deserving soldier's widow, and a still greater one in recommending her friends.

It is so easy to be a good Christian, under some circumstances!

"Well, I shall certainly send for her," said Mrs. Marvin. "What did you tell me her name and address was?"

"Oh, she is called Mrs. Leggett, and lives in one of these horrid musty tenement housse, No.—, street, the back room in the third story."

Mrs. Marvin entered the details in little pearl-bound tablets, and took her leave, internally convinced that Mrs. Wharton was a "good Samaritan," of the very highest class.

Meanwhile the latter lady was gazing dreamily into the fire, and wondering what toilets would be most appropriate for the morrow evening's soiree.

"There's my pea green satin," mused Mrs. Wharton, checking off the various garments on the tips of her white fingers; "but I've worn it there already. And there's my Marie Louise blue silk, if this skirt was only gored a little more. The lemon-colored brocade is not becoming to me. I'm sorry I bought it. And the white grenadine not worn at Mrs. Armyn's. My wine-colored silk, with the ruby set, would look well, if the odious Fanny Palmer hadn't got one just like it. And purple velvet don't light up well at night. Oh, dear! I really think I must have something new. A rose-colored tissue, perhaps, or a white India muslin. My wardrobe is getting dreadfully behind hand. Dear me! who's that? How you startled me, Mrs. Leggett!"

"I beg your pardon, ma'am, I am sure," said the slender, meek-looking little seamstress, rustlnig softly forward, in her garments of shabby, well-worn black; "but I knocked twice, and you did not answer."

"Then you should knock louder, next time," said the irritable, fine lady.—"However, now that you are here, you may as well sit down. Good gracious, how wet you are—positively dripping!"

"Yes, ma'am; it is raining very hard, and I have no umbrella."

"No umbrella? Dear me, how shocking! Well, did you bring home those things?"

"Yes, ma'am: here they are"

And the seamstress produced a neat packet from beneath her shawl.

"I hope to goodness you didn't get them wet? No: they seem tolerably dry. What is the bill?"

"Six dollars, ma'am."

"Six dollars! Isn't that high, Mrs. Leggett?" said Mrs. Wharton, discontentedly.

"I worked eleven days faithfully on them, ma'am."

"Well, I suppose I must pay what you ask?" said Mrs. Wharton, opening her purse, and slowly examining its compartments. "Dear me! I have only a five dollar bill. I suppose you could not change a twenty?"

Mrs. Leggett smiled bitterly:

"No ma'am, I could not."

"Well, then, we'll call it five dollars, won't we? A dollar isn't much either way, and the five is all I've got."

"A dollar is a grat deal to me, Mrs. Wharton."

The lady's smooth brow contracted: "I have given you a great deal of work, Mrs. Leggett."

"I know it, ma'am, and I am very much obliged to you for your kindness."

"And I should be sorry to have so trifling a thing as a dollar part us now."

Mrs. Leggett was silent; she did not know what to say.

"Call it five dollars," said Mrs. Wharton, tossing the bill into the lap of the soldier's widow; "a dollar don't signify, and I recommended my friend Mrs. Marvin, to employ you only this morning."

"Thank you madam," said the poor woman, faintly, as she took the money, feeling inwardly that she had been defrauded, yet perfectly aware that she had no means of redress.

And she once more went forth into the rain and tempest of the dismal November morning.

"Ma'am, if you please," said Mary the waitress, "here's the newspaper boy—he says master told him you would pay the bill this week."

"How much is it, Mary?"

"A dollar, ma'am."

"How provoking, I haven't a dollar in the house."

"He says he has orders not to leave the house until it is paid."

"He is very impertinent," said the lady, coloring up, and, for the first time in her petted life, feeling the want of a dollar.

Mrs. Clarence Fitzgerald was the next person announced—a lady of the utmost style, whose acquaintance Mrs. Wharton had just succeeded in making.

"You will stare at my being out in this storm, my dear," floating gracefully into the apartment, "but I am raising a dollar subscription for a poor musician who has just broken his arm. Of course I may depend upon you?"

Mrs. Wharton colored: "I will send it round in the morning."

"That won't do," said Mrs. Fitzgerald, shrugging her shoulders. "I am determined to settle the business to day."

"I am very sorry," said our mortified heroine, "but I have not a dollar."

Mrs. Fitzgerald bowed coldly—evidently she did not believe the protestation—and Mrs. Wharton saw her enter her coupe and drive away, with the comfortable consciousness that she would be invited to no more of Mrs. Clarence Fitzgeralds' delightfully exclusive parties.

"Mrs. Wharton," said the cook, there's a boy at the door from the fruiteries—he has an elegant pine apple Mrs. Pepper sent round."

"It will be the very thing I want for dessert," said Mrs. Wharton; "how much is it?

"A dollar, ma'am."

Once more the everlasting dollar!—Mrs. Wharton bit her lip with vexation.

"Tell him to leave it, Bridget, and I'll call and settle to-morrow."

"He says, ma'am, Mrs. Dalton wants it, if ye don't happen to have the money handy. Pine apples doesn't go beggin' this season of the year."

"Let Mrs. Dalton have it, then; I will never buy another article of Pepper."

Mrs. Wharton was considerably annoyed.

"To think a dollar should be such a useful thing!" she muttered to herself, taking up her portfolio.

A half-finished letter lay there—one to her sister, who was the wife of a clergyman out West, with a flock of little children around her. The last words she had written were, "I send you a dollar to buy a doll for the baby, my little namesake."

"How provoking she exclaimed, "I can't even finish my letter, for lack of the everlasting dollar!"

She leaned back in the velvet cushion of her chair, and drowsily watching the blaze and listening to the patter of the rain against the window, fell fast asleep.

Where was she? In the spectre-boat of Charon, gliding over the river Styx—and as the bark touched the shores of the other world, the ghastly toll-gatherer extended his hand relentlessly: "Your fare, if you please, ma'am."

Mrs. Wharton had her fare ready—she handed it up, eager to pass through the Gates where she could see the musical wave of the palm trees and the sparkle of glittering tides that flowed beneath their shadow.

"Short by a dollar, ma'am, short by the single dollar you cheated the poor seamstress out of. You cannot enter!"

Mrs. Wharton drew a hundred dollar bill out. The grim Cerberus shook his head:

"If you had ten thousand, it wouldn't do. Nothing will serve our purpose but that one dollar!"

Charon turned the boat briskly round. Mrs. Wharton was just opening her lips to utter a wild cry of anxious pleading—when she woke up.

"I have been dreaming," said Mrs. Wharton, looking round the cozy room; "but dear me, what a frightful dream it was. That one dollar! will the recording angel really set it down against me, in the latter day accounts."

She shuddered; somehow the dollar has assumed preternaturally large demensions!

"Charles! Charles!" How welcome was the footstep of her husband upon the stairs.

"Well, what is it?"

"Have you a dollar?"

"Half a dozen of 'em, if you want."

"But I only want one—a one dollar bill."

He gave it to her—she rang the bell.

"John, I want you to put on your India-rubber cloak and take this bill 'round to Mrs. Leggett! Tell her it is what I owe her!"

John departed, and Mrs. Wharton breathed more easily.

"Perhaps they will let me into the Gates, now!" she said dreamedly.

"My dear, what do you mean?" demanded her astonished husband.

And Mrs. Wharton told him the story of her day's adventures, and the dream that had closed them.

"Helen," said her husband gravely, "let this be a lesson to you never to neglect the just dues of the poor. A dollar is not much to us—to them it may be the last bulwark between them and starvation."

But there was no danger of Mrs. Wharton's forgetting the lesson she had received.

FREEMEN OF THE NORTH, ARE YOU FREE? ARISE AND SPEAK.

Freemen of the North! Know that the clutch of usurpation is at the throat of your Ministers of Justice; that your treacherous servants, determined to destroy your Constitution, defended by your Chief Magistrate, have desperately resolved upon abnegating the legislative branch of your government, entrusted to their perfidious hands, and in order to demolish all restraint of treason, are about to destroy all the departments of government, even their own, and lifting your liberties from your sovereign shoulders, to lay all at the feet of a military despot. Know, people of the great free North, that your chains are forged, that the bayonets, as it were, are sharpened, the muskets charged, the orders written that are to mete out to each one of you what liberty, what property, what life he shall retain. Behold at your firesides the appartiion of the guard for a midnight arrest; in your places of worship, the armed censors of your prayers; in your fields, at your work tables, on the high roads, the snaky and skulking detective. Listen! You may hear the drum as it drops in at your startled ear, the palsy that thickens your yet free tongue. We tell you that the Supreme Court is to be struck down, that the equal balance in the Three Great Departments is swaying from its equilibrium; that the great tripod of the Republic is to be broken up; that from your political temples your betrayers are banishing your gods, and from the Genius of your freedom are wrenching her inviolable scepter; that a few wretches, drunk upon irresponsible power, loathsome with guilt, hideous with blood, and mad with lust, may riot in your halls of power, through the degradation of the South, your liberties are to be destroyed, your Constitution subverted, your Republic dissolved, and your name dishonored among nations forever.

Arise, freemen, in your fiery majesty! Consume with the lighting of your powerful rebuke this devilish combination of perfidy and greed. Shake off the fatal incredulity which lays you supine in the midst of peril, and let not the sun go down ere you have shaken the earth with your mighty tread. Gather, in every hamlet in the land, from Eastport to Astoria, and send up to Heaven the shout of your indignation. The winding sheet of your freedom is woven and its coffin made.—Shall it die and be buried?—National Intelligencer.

THE STEAM MAN.

Few men have been more talked of or wondered at during the past fortnight than Mr. Deddick's steam man—certainly none in as short an existence have become so widely famous. Many persons incredulously received the story of its creation, and ridiculed the idea of an iron man moved by machinery. Several accidents in experimenting persuaded others that the project was only visionary, and could never become an available power. A few practical machinists, however, sympathizing with Mr. Deddrick, were confident of success. Their hopes have been realized, and now the wonderful piece of mechanism, if it would but speak, would undoubtedly exclaim "Homo sum!" The delays that were experienced in introducing his majesty to the public were occasioned by weakness of the knees, brought on perhaps by over excitement in view of the trial to which he was to be subjected.

The old spiral springs which we described as being necessary to throw the foot foward have been superseded by stronger of more simple construction. Yesterday steam was generated and he (or it?) performed to the entire satisfaction of admiring friends. Last night a trial trip was made through Broad street, to Crump's garden, opposite Military Park, where the machine will be exhibited to the public during the coming week. Mr. Deddrick has been almost besieged by the calls of the curious and floods of letters have poured in from all parts of the country.

A crowd of Newarkers, the day after the publication of the description of the invention in our columns, thronged the door-way and effectually darkened the windows of the shop, threatening to deter the machinists from completing their work. A large United States flag which some enthusiastic individual has presented to the inventor, has been arranged so as to allow the "man" some privacy, and the besiegers are dropping off in their attentions. One day last week, a committee of five gentlemen from Albany called upon Mr. Deddrick, to decide a bet as to whether there was any reality in the thing, as it was thought by some that it was only a newspaper hoax. Nearly fifty letters, asking for further information, have been received. Some contain orders for men and propositions for territorial rights for the manufacture and sale of them.

A gentleman from Chicago thinks the affair is just what is needed for work upon the prairies and level lands of the West, and proposes that it be allowed "to walk to Chicago," as the sensation produced would eclipse Weston's in his pedestrian trip. Other parties make equally encouraging propositions. Some are exceedingly facetious. A person in Pennsylvania wants a male and female, that he may stock his place.

Among the letters are five from ladies pretending to be in search of husbands. One gentleman wants a lady made to order, but the inventor ungallantly replied that as his creatures do not talk, he is doubtful whether a woman would be a success.—Newark Advertiser.

The Bedford Gazette.

PITTSBURG AND CONNELLSVILLE RAILROAD.

On the third of April, 1837, a charter was granted by the Legislature of Pennsylvania to a corporation styled the "Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad Company," which corporation also obtained a charter from the State of Maryland. The object of this company was understood to be the the construction of a railroad from Pittsburg, Pa., to Cumberland, Md. Some twenty years elapsed after the date of its incorporation, before the company began to show any signs of life; but at last it built a part of the projected road, that now in operation between Pittsburg and Connellsville. It failed, however, during twenty seven years of its existence, to complete the road to Cumberland. In 1864, the people of Somerset and Bedford counties despairing of the ability of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad Company, to complete their road, and having received the most positive assurances from New York and other eastern capitalists, that if the charter of this company would be repealed and a new company, which they were about to organize, chartered, a road, having an eastern and western through connection, and passing through the coal field of Somerset and the center of Bedford, would be made in a very short time, petitioned the legislature for the revocation of the Pittsburg and Connellsville charter and the incorporation of the proposed new company. Accordingly, the Legislature revoked the P. & C. charter and incorporated the "Connellsville and Southern Pennsylvania Railroad Company." The repeal of the P. & C. charter was made upon the ground that the act of 1837, which granted said charter, provided that "if the said company shall at any time misuse or abuse any of the privileges herein granted, the Legislature may resume all and singular the rights and privileges hereby granted to the said corporation," and upon the allegation that as the said company had been in existence twenty seven years and had failed to fulfill the purpose of its creation, it had misused and abused its corporate privileges. Since the repeal of the P. & C. charter and the incorporation of the new company, the whole subject has been in litigation in the State and U. S. courts. The old company, notwithstanding the fact that it had been legislated out of existence, proceeded to tunnel the Alleghenies, and the Commonwealth proceeded against the company by quo warranto. This case was argued in the Supreme Court of this State, a few days ago, and resulted in judgment for the defendants. Judge Sharswood delivered the opinion of the court, which concludes as follows:

By the 20th section of the original act of incorporation of April 3, 1837, it is provided that "if the said company shall at any time misuse or abuse any of the privileges herein granted, the Legislature may resume all and singular the rights and privileges hereby granted to the said corporation." The questions which naturally arise upon the construction of this provision are two—1. Is the Legislature constituted the sole and exclusive judge of the fact of misuse or abuse upon which their power to revoke is conditioned? And 2. If not, what effect ought to be given to their act? As to the 1st question upon the ordinary rules applied to the interpretation of language, no difficulty could arise.

If this were a contract between man and man it could not be pretended that when one party reserves the power to rescind in a certain event, he is thereby constituted the judge whether the event has occurred. It is a condition precedent to the exercise of the power, and the party exercising it must prove affirmatively the execution of the fact. The power of the Legislature in grants and contracts is not like the power of the English Parliament. It is limited and restrained by the provisions of the Federal and State Constitutions, so that it cannot impair contracts either made by itself or others. It corresponds more properly to the English crown—as to which it is certainly the established law of that country that the King cannot derogate from his own grant, and when an express power is reserved in a certain event or upon certain conditions, it must be proved affirmatively that the event has occurred, or the condition been fulfilled.

What effect, then, are we to give to the act of Aug. 19, 1864? The pleadings leave but one question open for consideration, namely, whether upon the true construction of the act of April 11, 1856, called in the argument the condoning act, all misuse or abuse of its corporate privileges by the company before that date was pardoned and released. We have no difficulty in saying that upon these pleadings it is admitted that no misuse or abuse had taken place, which would give any constitutional right to the Legislature under the twentieth section of the original act of incorporation, to resume the rights and privileges granted to the defendants and that the right of eminent domain in this instance has not been constitutionally exercised. We have given to all the points presented by the Commonwealth the most careful consideration, and on the whole are of opinion that they have not been sustained. Judgment for the defendants."

This decision knocked the breath out of the Legislature and it at once hastened to restore to the Pittsburg and Connellsville Co. the charter which was revoked in 1864. This, however, leaves the Connellsville and Southern Pennsylvania Company intact, and it remains now to be seen which company will keep faith with the people. We understand that Mr. Hughert, the President of the Pittsburg and Connellsville company, who is said to be a very reliable man, has promised that "the cars shall run from Connellsville to Cumberland within one year from the date of the restoration of the charter." We hope most earnestly that this promise will be fulfilled. If it be, Mr. Hughert will deserve to be ranked among the first railroad men of the country. Meanwhile, we shall look, with renewed confidence, to the capitalists who promise to build the "Connellsville and Southern Pennsylvania." It is certainly their interest now to go ahead with the construction of the road. Philadelphia, especially, should perceive the necessity for a railroad which will divert to its own market, the trade which may, in a few years, be carried to Baltimore. But we shall see what we shall see.

Y-E-S!

The Bedford Inquirer, of last week, has an article appealing to the Radicals of this county to organize for the Spring election. Yes! to organize for the election of men who will support the Congressional Negroizing of ten States of this Union; for the election of men who assist in strengthening Congress in its efforts to make the Blacks the political equals of the Whites throughout the whole Union; for the election of men who form the pillars of that faction which has kept the conquered people of the South out of the Union for nearly three years; for the election of men who keep the country in perpetual turmoil by supporting a policy which keeps the Negro question in constant agitation; for the election of men who cling to that party which keeps up a standing army of 50,000 men, at a cost of millions and millions per annum; for the election of men who vote the ticket of that party which has robbed the President of his Constitutional powers and which threatens to throttle the Supreme Judiciary; for the election of men who are the local supports of that Radicalism, which, according to its founder, Thad. Stevens, "acts outside of the Constitution;" for the election of men who favor the continuance of the Grand Negro Poor House, the Freedmen's Bureau, at a cost of millions of dollars per annum; for the election of men who belong to a party that compels the Government to pay gold to the bond-holding nabob and to stint the crippled soldier, and the dead soldier's widow and orphans with a miserable stipend in paper; for the election of men who are tied, fettered, riveted, to a party that has invented the present system of federal taxation, whereby the poor and middle classes are forced to bear the burden of the Government, whilst the rich bondholders are permitted to go scot-free; aye, for the election of men who are responsible for the distress, misery and ruin which now curse this once happy land. By all means, let the Radicals organize! If they want to elect anybody holding their doctrines, they had better send to Massachusecetts for reinforcements.

HARRISBURG.

Our correspondent, "LEX," not coming to time, this week, we shall make a brief reference to the more important transactions of the Legislature since our last issue. The bill to restore the charter of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad company, was passed without opposition in both houses. The reason of this unanimity was that the Supreme Court had virtually restored the charter, and it only remained for the Legislature to register the decision of that tribunal. There is not the slightest doubt, that if the decision of the Court had been otherwise, the Legislature would not have restored this charter. Hence, no thanks to the Legislature from the Pittsburg and Connellsville people. The bill introduced by the Democrats to repeal the law passed at the last session compelling railroad companies to permit negroes to choose seats in any of their cars, was reported from the Judiciary Committee in the House, but was referred back to the Committee by a vote of 42 yeas to 39 nays, the Rads. voting yea, and the Democrats nay. Scarcely had this vote been taken, when Mr. Deise (Dem.) from the same Committee, reported a similar bill which was also referred back to the Committee, by the close vote of 43 to 41. Thus, it will be seen that the Radicals are determined to cling to their black laws, and that they defy the will of the people. No other legislation of general importance, has come to our notice since our last. The Democrats in the Legislature deserve great credit for their vigilance and compactness of organization.

THAD. TO THE RESCUE!

Shout, Ye Rads!

SCREAM, YE DARKIES!

The cloven foot is visible at last! Nobody can fail to see the split in the hoof of Radicalism now! Read, ye duped and misled Republicans! Thaddeus Stevens, your party leader, has just introduced in Congress the following bill:

"Be it enacted, &c., That on all questions affecting the whole of the United States, whose influence may reach to all national questions, such as the election of President, Vice President and members of Congress, every male citizen of the United States above the age of twenty-one years who shall have resided ten days within the district where he offers his vote shall be entitled to vote for all such national questions. This act shall not affect any municipal elections or those of chartered companies, but it shall apply to all State elections. All such elections shall be by ballot.

If you can swallow this, don't tell us any more that you are opposed to Negro Suffrage, or that you are in favor of the people of each State settling the Suffrage question for themselves. Swallow it, if you will, but come out like honest men and stand by what you are doing, and don't tell us that you are against the very thing for which you vote. On the other hand, if you are really and heartily opposed to making this a mixed nation, like the Mexicans and South Americans, show your manhood by leaving the party that aims at such a consummation. "Be a man, a mouse, or a long-tailed rat!"

SHARSWOOD AND SOMERSET.

During the campaign of last fall, the politicians of Somerset county manufactured a story to the effect that if Judge Sharswood would be elected Supreme Judge, he would decide against the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad Company in the litigation before the Supreme Court in which that company was concerned. Now, see how Judge Sharswood's decision, an extract from which we publish elsewhere, has given the lie to this Radical electioneering scheme. But that falsehood was a "good enough Morgan" to bring out the Somerset Radicals to the election. We refer to this matter only to show how easily some people are gulled. With such, truly,

"The pleasure is as great
Of being cheated as to cheat."

BONES AND BANJO RECONSTRUCTION.

Scarcely a single day goes by without being signalized by some fiendish atrocity by the negro pets of the Radical Congress. The newspapers are filled with accounts of the barbarities practiced by the demoralized "freedmen." The following is the latest:

A Posse of Constables Waylaid by a Gang of Negro Marauders—Two Whites Killed and Six Severely Wounded.

JACKSON, Jan. 27, 1868.

The Clarion has particulars of an outrage committed in Jasper county, Miss., on the 25th and 26th inst. A squad of freedmen, who had been stealing hogs, waylaid the constables, a posse of whom were searching for them with a warrant for their arrest. Two white men were killed, one mortally wounded and five severely. But one negro was wounded and arrested. Several parties are in search of the perpetrators.

Of such is the kingdom of Reconstruction. And yet intelligent and patriotic people are asked to continue in power a party whose policy produces such results!

COOL.

In its issue of the 24th of January, the Inquirer said:

"With Edwin M. Stanton once more in the office of Secretary of War, the friends of equal and exact justice to black and white, will receive fresh curage and push on the car of progress until, in the United States of America, there will not remain a single individual who can point to a statute upon our books that discriminates against him on account of race and color."

And now in its issue of the 31st of January, it calls upon its party to organize for the election of men who will thus push on "the car of progress." Will not those Republicans who refuse to ride in this Negro Suffrage car, consider this recommendation of the Inquirer "to organize," a little cool?

EYES RIGHT!

We say to our Democratic friends throughout the country, and to all others who hope to save our country from revolution, impending despotism and Negro anarchy, go to work, now, and win the fight at the township elections! Elect good men as election officers, so that you and your friends will not be disfranchised in October and November. Talk to your neighboas, enlist them in the good work, show them the necessity of acting promptly and with determination. Let your watchword be, Action, Action, Action!

HON. C. R. Buckalew, Hon. W. H. Koontz, and Hon. B. F. Butler, will accept our thanks for documents under their franks.

OUR thanks are due to Hon. A Stutzman, of the State Senate, for numerous documentary favors.

J. T. KEAGY, Esq., H. R., will receive our acknowledgment of valuable documents which he has kindly sent us.

"THE MUHLBACH NOVELS.—Last Summer at the sea-shore, when the weather was unfavorable for walking on the beaches or strolling in the rocky pastures, I used to while away many an hour at the public library of G——, in idly turning over the leaves of familiar volumes, and in studying the folks who came for books.

"I soon saw that the good people of G——, like the good people of every other town or city in the civilized world, were great readers and admirers of novels and romances. I found that Louisa Muhlbach was a prodigious favorite with these fisherfolk. The poor librarian was dreadfully pestered with their incessant demands for the Muhlbach novels and was weary of repeating that they were all out, and that she knew not when any of them would be in. Pretty little Miss P——, a Minerva in spectacles—a veritable Crichton in petticoats—said in one of her long and learned confabulations with the librarian, that Scott was prosy and Dickens silly, but Muhlbach was 'splendid.' And to Minerva's praise of the Muhlbach Novels, the librarian heartily assented. I was not long in discovering that not to be an admirer of these German historical novels, argued you to be, in the estimation of the literati of G——, a person of no taste or cleverness.

"'As goes Hull, so goes the State,' and in the admiration of the Muhlbach novels, as went G——, so went the country. There is now a real Muhlbach furor. Her works are the fashion. The ladies dote upon them, and and talk rapturously of 'the charming Muhlbach.' She is the favorite of the hour, and the darling of the novel-reading public.

"'Tis certainly no small pleasure to sit down quietly of an evening in one's own room after a day's hard toil is over, and by 'the magic of a book,' visit distant lands, and meet face to face such great historical personages as Frederick the Great, Marie Antoinette, and Napoleon Bonaparte. And how much better 'tis to make the acquaintance of the Empress Josephine and Marie Antoinette than of Aurora and Lady Audly! If, like Miss P——, above mentioned, readers prefer Muhlbach to Scott and Dickens, I shall not think any the less of the 'Waverly' and 'David Copperfield;' but if they read Muhlbach in preference to Braddon, Wood & Company, I shall think the novel-reading public is not wholly devoid of taste and common sense.

"Indeed, the remarkable success of the Muhlbach novels tends to show that the public is beginning to tire of high-spiced mental food, and that the popularity of the sensational novel is on the decline; and in fact so great has been the popularity of Miss Muhlbach's works and such a demand have they made for the historical novel that her American publishers, the Messrs. Appleton, of New York, are about to issue 'Count Mirabeau,' and other historical romances of Theodor Mundt.

FACTS.

That we have unequalled facilities for conducting business to the advantage both of ourselves and patrons, we submit the following TRUTHS—well known as such to the entire business community.

1st. We have abundant cash capital, therefore—
2d. We are enabled to Buy for Cash exclusively, consequently at the lowest possible prices, with the markets of the entire world to select from.
3d. In this particular WE HAVE ADVANTAGES shared by no other house in our business.
4th. We sell for cash exclusively—therefore at the lowest possible prices—having no losses incurred by selling on credit, to provide for.
5th. We have a business experience of a quarter of a century, having been longer established than any house in our trade in Philadelphia.
6th. Our business is thoroughly systematized, the result of long experience, which has taught us what the wants of the public are, and how best to meet them.
7th. We employ the best talent in all departments, our garments are therefore unsurpassed in style, fit and workmanship.
8th. Our business is large and constantly increasing, enabling us to keep at all times the largest, best assorted, and most complete stock of MEN'S, YOUTHS', and BOYS' CLOTHING in Philadelphia, to which large daily additions are made of fresh goods, replacing those sold.
9th. For reasons already enumerated we can, and do sell clothing in every respect superior—surpassed by none, equalled by few—at prices guaranteed in all cases lower than the the lowest elsewhere, or the sale cancelled and money refunded.
10th. If buyers should for any cause become dissatisfied after a purchase is made, if reported within a reasonable time, we pledge ourselves, by exchange, refunding of money, or otherwise, to give full satisfaction in every case, and request that all such may be reported to us for adjustment.

CARD.—Our stock of Fall and Winter Clothing is full and complete, and selling rapidly, but is as rapidly replenished each day with fresh and desirable styles of new goods, purchased recently, for cash, at great sacrifices, enabling us to sell at prices lower than have been known for years. Congratulating our patrons upon the decline of prices which enables us to offer superior garments at such low rates, we request the favor of a call.

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED whose sufferings have been protracted from hideous causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits or melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are al capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating and no matter how long standing

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

TO OWNERS OF HORSES.—Thousands of horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 20 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an over-driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, used it for years, and said it is far superior to any other he has tried. PROSPECTUS.

1868. "THE AGE," 1868.

"THE AGE."

A Democratic Daily and Weekly Journal in Philadelphia.

The attention of the Democrats and Conservative-citizens of the country is called to the Daily and Weekly issues of this widely circulated journal. The dissemination of sound political doctrines should command the earnest attention of every true friend of the Union and the Constitution. The events of the past political year are full of significance. The uprising of The People in opposition to the destructive policy of Radicalism, clearly shows that the masses are determined to restore again to power the great Democratic party, every page of whose history is filled with the glory and prosperity of our common country. No more effectual method for presenting the Truth can be devised, than in circulating Democratic journals. It is the intention of the Proprietors of The Age to make it, in every way worthy of the support and confidence that have heretofore been extended to it. Improvements are contemplated in every department, and no pains or expense will be spared to keep it in the front rank of American journalism.

The Daily Age contains the latest intelligence from all parts of the world, with articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance, and all the current questions of the day; Local Intelligence, Market Reports, Prices Current, Stock Quotation, Marine and Commercial Intelligence, Reports of Public Gatherings, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence, Legal Reports, Book Notices, Theatrical Criticisms, Reviews of Literature, Art and Music, Agricultural Matters, and discussions of whatever subjects are of general interest and importance. Besides Special Telegrams, it has all the dispatches of the Associated Press from every part of the United States, and also the Associated Press dispatches received by the Atlantic Cable; and the news from all parts of Europe brought by the steamers, is instantly telegraphed from whatever point the steamer first touches.

The Weekly Age will be a complete compendium of the news of the week, and besides the leading editorials from the Daily, will contain a large amount of interesting matter prepared expressly for the weekly issue. It will be in all respects a first-class family journal, particularly adapted to the Politician, the Farmer, the Merchant, the Family Circle, and the General Reader, having, in fact, every characteristic of a live newspaper. At an early day will be begun an intensely interesting serial, by one of the most popular and fascinating authors, and it is also the intention to publish, from week to week, in the course of the year, three or four of the best and latest novels.

Terms of the Daily.—One copy, one year, $9.00; six months, $5.00; three months, $2.50; for any less period, at the rate of one Dollar per month. Payment required invariably in advance. Postage on the Daily, thirty cents per quarter, or one dollar and twenty cents per annum, to be prepaid at the office of delivery.

Terms of the Weekly.—One copy, one year, $2; five copies, one year, $9; ten copies one year, $17-50; twenty copies one year, $33. To clubs, where the papers are sent to one address, the following reduction will be made: Five copies, one year, $8.50, Ten copies, 1 year, $16.50; Twenty copies, one year, $30. A copy will be furnished gratis for each club of ten, or more, to one address, for one year. Payment required invariably in advance. Postage on the Weekly, five cents, per quarter, or twenty cents per annum, to be prepaid at the office of delivery

The above terms will be rigidly adhered to. Drafts on Philadelphia, or Post office Orders, payable to the order of the Publishers, being safer, are preferable to any other mode of remittance. All who send money by Express, must pre-pay Express charges. Specimen copies of the Daily and Weekly sent gratis, on application at this office. Advertisements inserted at moderate rates. Address WELSH & ROBB, 430 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. jan24w4.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING!

The Democrats of Bedford county, and all who support the Constitution against the attacks of Radical aggression, are requested to assemble in MASS MEETING, at the Court House, on Monday evening, Feb. 10, (Court Week) for the purpose of expressing their disapprobation of the extraordinary, unconstitutional and despotic course of Congress in attempting to establish Negro Supremacy in Ten States of this Union at the point of the bayonet, and electing a Delegate to the Democratic State Convention which is to assemble at Harrisburg on the fourth of March next.

All who desire a change in the law-making power of the country, no matter to what party they have heretofore belonged, are respectfully invited to attend and participate in the proceedings of the meeting.

GEO. MARDORFF,
Ch'n. Dem. Co. Com.

W. C. SCHAEFFER, Sec'y.

VERY MUCH CONCERNED.—The Radical papers of this Congressional district, are in a terrible fidget over the prospective Democratic nomination for Congress. They have already announced a half dozen candidates for that nomination, and seem to be on the look-out for more. This is evidently the result of their conviction that our next Congressman will be a Democrat, and their consequent anxiety to know who is to be the man. The Fulton Republican, of last week, has the following:

"The Democracy of this district are already agitating the subject as to who shall be their standard-bearer in the aproaching contest for member of Congress from this district.

Somerset county presents Hon. A. H. Coffroth, Adams county, Hon. Wm. McSherry, Bedford and Franklin will, no doubt, put forward two or more aspirants, and in our own "Little Fulton" the "unterrified" are pressing Geo. A. Smith, Esq. Of course it is a matter of indifference to us which all of these they set up to be knocked down, for no one whom they nominate can by any possible chance, be elected, but admitting for argument sake, that there may be one chance in ten thousand, there is no one among the democracy named or any likely to be named, whom we would rather see selected than our enterprising fellow citizen, Geo. A. Smith, Esq., if the fates should decree that the democracy should carry this district.

Politically we have no more faith in Mr. Smith than in any other Democrat, but personally we have a high regard for him, and he certainly has a strong claim to the preference and we see no reason why we may not have a chance at defeating him just as well as any other man.

If the democracy of this district will not consider us officious, we will recommend to them to nominate George A. Smith of Fulton, just for the fun of having a lively campaign in this county."

As the Radical papers appear to have forgotten that there are aspirants in their own ranks, or consider them too "small potatoes" to mention their names, we will just remind them that there are such among them. The present incumbent, Gen. Koontz, of Somerset, is pressed, we are told, for renomination. John Cessna, ex-copperhead, of Bedford, is a candidate. Dr. S. E. Duffield, of Fulton, quiet as you keep it, Mr. Republican, has not abandoned his hope of being the nominee. Franklin county has a candidate in the person of a certain iron-master whose name we don't, just now, recollect. And Adams will present our unfortunate friend McPherson, who needs the place very much, never having had an office in his life. Among these we, of course, prefer our own distinguished, "talyented," and upright fellow citizen, the Hon. John Cessna. We hope he may be the nominee, if for no other reason than "just to have a lively campaign in this county."

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last, 31st ult., a very serious accident occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad, a short distance from Mill Creek, Huntingdon co., by the breaking of a rail. Four cars of the fast line, ran off the track and upset over an embankment. Mrs. Annie Duggin, of Pittsburg, was killed, and her body partially burned up. Her husband, Patrick Duggin, was also seriously burned. A number of other persons were injured, though, it is thought, not fatally. Three of the cars were destroyed by fire.

THE SOUL OF FLOWERS.—Poetry has given title to the living breath of fragrant blossoms, and this floral soul—this quintessence of olfactory luxuries—exists, in its full perfection, in Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus."—Brooklyn Eagle.

NEW OFFICERS.—We have omitted to notice the installation of the new county officers chosen at the late election, for which dereliction we now make amends. Michael Wertz, Esq., of Union tp., is the retiring Commissioner, and is succeeded by Peter M. Barton, of E. Providence. The county has had few better Commissioners than Esq. Wertz and will have few better ones than Mr. Barton. The board of Commissioners is at present composed of Mr. M. S. Ritchey, of Snake Spring. Mr. David Howsare, of Southampton, and Mr. Barton. J. W. Dickerson, Esq., is Attorney to the Commissioners and J. G. Fisher, Clerk. —Mr. Samuel Beckley, of St. Clair, is the retiring Poor Director, and is succeeded by Mr. J. I. Noble, S. Woodbury. Mr. Beckley was highly esteemed as an officer, and it is universally conceded that Mr. Noble is very vigilant and efficient. The board of Poor Directors at present consists of Mr. D. R. Anderson, of Cumberland Valley, Michael Diehl, of Colerain and Mr. Noble. J. W. Dickerson, Esq., is Attorney to the board, and T. R. Gettys, Clerk. Samuel Defibaugh has been re-appointed Steward, Joseph Wills, Miller, and Dr. F. C. Reamer Physician.—Mr. Geo. Mardorff is the retiring County Treasurer and Mr. Isaac Mengel is his successor. Mr. Mardorff comes out "all right" with the State and County, which is as high an encomium as can be passed upon any custodian of the public moneys. Mr. Mengel is one of our substantial citizens and the finances are safe in his hands. On the whole, Bedford county is well officered at present, and nine out of ten of those who find fault, would not make as faithful public servants as those now in office.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Tuesday night of last week, as a sleighing party of ladies and gentlemen from this place were crossing the "red bridge," near Mr. Wisegarver's, on the Hollidaysburg road, the pair of front horses of a four-horse team became detached, dragging the driver, Mr. Andrew Middleton, forward upon the tongue of the sled, between the horses that remained hitched. Had it not been for Mr. Middleton's admirable presence of mind, this accident might have resulted very seriously. Clinging to the tongue, he sustained himself on top of it, whilst he retained the lines and stopped the horses. Truly, a narrow escape.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We are pained to learn that our friend Michael Naugle, of Boydstown, had his leg fractured, a few days ago, by falling through the flooring of a "hay-mow." It appears that Mr Naugle was engaged in hauling shingles from the mountain, and stopped at the old Elonburger stand, about 20 miles west of this place, to feed his horses. On going upon the "mow" to throw down some hay, he fell through the flooring and fractured his leg as above stated. He was brought home the next day, suffering very much from the injury.

LECTURE.—The lecture delivered in the Court House, on Tuesday night last, by Rev. A. J. Barrow, on "Westminster Abbey," was highly interesting and very able. We are only sorry that there was not a larger attendance, especially as the lecture was given for the benefit of the Cemetery Association. It is unaccountable to our mind, that a "magic lantern" or other "one horse show," attracts more people than the best lecture that can be given for the best of objects. But such is the fact.

MARE STOLEN.—On the night of the thirty-first ult., an iron grey mare was stolen from the stable of Mr James C. Hughes, five miles east of Cumberland, Md. The animal is about fifteen hands high, has a heavy mane and tail and a small wart on the corner of the eye, also a slight scratch on the inside of the left hind leg. A reward of seventy-five dollars will be paid for the recovery of the mare and capture of the thief, or fifty dollars for the mare alone, by Mr. Hughes.

WE learn that the Office of the County Treasurer, at Huntingdon, was entered by burglars last night, and the safe broken open, by battering the door completely off. There were several hundred dollars in the safe yesterday, but Treasurer Logan had fortunately taken it with him when leaving the office last evening, so the thieves had their labor for nothing. The safe was a Lilly's, nearly new, having been purchased by the Commissioners to take the place of one similarly demolished by burglars about a year ago.—Mt. Union Herald, 23d ult.

BURNED TO DEATH.—A little daughter of Mr. Patrick Shay, of Altoona, some ten or twelve years of age, was burned to death, on Friday last. She was playing about the stove during the absence of the other members of the family, and her clothing igniting from the fire, she was wrapped in flame before assistance could reach her, and so terribly injured that death ensued almost immediately.—Cambria Freeman, 30th ult.

HARNESS STOLEN.—One night week before last (probably Wednesday) there was stolen from the stable of G. A. Smith, Esq., in this borough, a fine set (nearly new) of double harness belonging to him. The loss was first detected on Thursday, by some boys who failed, however, to give notice of the fact until Sunday. There are suspicions as to the thief. The harness was worth $75.—Fulton Democrat.

MILL BURNED.—Foreman's Mill, near Greencastle, Franklin county, was burned, a few days ago, and with it were consumed some 5,000 bushels of wheat. Loss about $10,000. The light of the burning building was plainly visible at McConnellsburg, says the Democrat.

LECTURE ON FRIDAY EVENING.—Rev. Barrow is to lecture on Friday evening, at the court House, for the benefit of the Episcopal Sunday School. Subject, "Heber, the missionary in Calcutta and author of the well known hymn, 'From Greenland's Icy mountains,' &c."

COURT WEEK.—Persons attending Court, next week, will find Berkstressers' Hat and Clothing Emporium a good place to buy cheap and excellent goods.

MAGNANIMITY is an invariable characteristic of a brave soldier, and forgiveness a shining trait of a true Christian. Governor Geary claims to be a soldier and a Christian, but manifests the utter emptiness of his title to either distinction by withholding the Pennsylvania appropriation to the Antietam Cemetery, because the Maryland authorities have made provision for burying some of the Confederate dead therein. This pursuit of a foe beyond the grave may suit the tastes and inclinations of extreme Radicals, but it merits the condemnation of every soldier and Christian in the land, and we are glad to know that it is receiving it. The New York Tribune says of it:

"It is said that Governor Geary withholds the Pennsylvania appropriation from the Antietam Cemetry, because the Maryland authorities have made provision for burying the rebel dead therein. We trust that the story is not true. If we are ready to pardon the rebels who have laid down their arms, can we not forget resentment towards those who have given up their lives?"

"THE COLORED TROOPS FOUGHT NOBLY."—This has passed into a proverb, but after all there is some evidence extant that casts a shadow of doubt over the assertion. The records of the War Departments show that fourteen "colored troops" deserted where one was killed; that about thirty died of disease to every one killed; that nearly twenty were mustered out of the service for disability where one was killed in battle. Look at the record;

Mustered out for disability	20,236
Died	31.866
Deserted	14.887
Missing, which means running	1,344
Killed in battle	1,514

—The wages of workingmen in nearly all the iron establishments in Harrisburg, Pa., and vicinity have been materially reduced. Many of them have left for other States, where labor is better appreciated and more liberally remunerated. Men with families, however, are forced to accept the "situation" and do the best they can under the cisumstances.—Harrisburg Union.

—In the Tennessee penitentiary, during the past six months, 525 flogging—some of them of seventy-five lashes—were inflicted upon prisoners. This in a "loyal," Radically-reconstructed State! Where are Wendell Phillips, Charley Sumner, and the kind-hearted Thad Stevens?

—According to a correspondent of the Avenir National, the mortality from famine in Algeria is so great that the dead are thrown into trenches, as on the day after a battle.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.
For sale wholesale and retail by
R. M. BRUCE,

☞ Send for descriptive circular and price list.
The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON. Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class.—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cottage Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

PROMINENT CHARACTERISTICS.
I.—They are Instructive.
"As purely literary works, these historical romances possess a high degree of merit. They read like genuine histories.—Catholic World.
"They are correct descriptions of the countries and the people described."—Herald.
II.—They are Entertaining.
"We regard these books as among the best and most entertaining novels of the day."—Springfield Republican.
"The reader is at once fascinated and held spellbound until the volume is completed."—Free Press.
"There is no dull chapter in it."—Utica Herald.
III.—They are mirrors of the Times.
"No one can pursue them without conceding the author's great skill in grasping and delineating the characters which figure conspicuously in them.
"The study which enables the author to delineate so accurately the emotions and incentives to action which moved men and women of a past age must be close and untiring, and Louisa Muhlbach shows in all of her works a perfection which carries the reader into the very presence of the characters represented."—Syracuse Journal.
IV.—They are Historically Correct.
"Historically correct, and as entertaining as many of the volumes of Sir Walter Scott."—Providence Herald.
"Louisa Muhlbach must have carefully and diligently studied the secret histories of the times and countries of which she writes, and her task is done well and effectively."—Worcester Spy.
"No Historical Novelist has labored so faithfully and successfully to reproduce a complete picture of past times and events."—Utica Herald.
V.—They are Original.
"It has agreeably surprised readers to find a new writer with such constructive genius and knowledge of character as Louisa Muhlbach possesses."—Public Ledger.
"Each succeeding novel adds to Mrs. Mundt's reputation as a writer of historic fiction."—N. Y. Times.
VI.—They are full of Imagination.
"She is not only the skilful joiner, but a neat-handed artizan."—Christian Witness.
"There is seldom any straining after effect, but it is really wonderful how Madame Mundt manages to sustain and increase the interest to the end."—City Item.
"The word-painting of the authoress is much more effective than the best efforts of the engraver."—Illinois State Register.
VII.—They Contain Anecdotes of Courts.
"Scottish history offered no fresher and more romantic material to the magic working hand of Sir Walter Scott than she finds in the annals of the German courts."—England Gazette.
"There are not to be found anywhere in human annals, unused, such magnificent, such superabundant materials for romance, as clog the chronicles of the Prussian and Austrian courts of the 18th century. By their dress, their manners, their modes of thought, their language, they are almost as much separated from us as if they had lived one thousand years ago."—Observer.
VIII.—They tell about Emperors, Kings, and Queens.
"We learn from her not only how Frederick William and Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, Voltaire, Rousseau, Baron Trenck, the Empress Catherine, walked and talked in their grand robes, but how they powdered their, hair, flirted, and took tea."—Register.
"The choice of her subjects exhibits her genius She takes the time of Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, for example, and upon the background of facts which the chronicles of the periods affords, she embroiders the bright and sombre colors, the light and shades of her fiction, with the skill of a consummate artist."—The Eagle.
IX.—The Style is Interesting.
"The style of this writer for purity, perspicuity, and elegance, is something greatly to be commended. It is free from imitations, mannerisms, and tricks of every kind."—The Argus.
"The translations do justice to the vivid, piquant style of the original; and the story is full of movement and crowded with instructive and entertaining incident."—The Chicago Post.
"The interest of the book does not depend upon its characters nor its incidents, nor yet on its charming style, but on its general harmony of composition."—Day Book.
X.—Everybody is Reading them.
"Our people seem to have stopped reading French novels, and English works are complained of as dull. Miss Muhlbach precisely supplies the public want.
"The novels of Clara Mundt are being read by every one."—Times.
"Muhlbach's novels have a world-wide reputation, and are read with avidity, as fast as issued from the press."—Springfield Republican.
"They are winning a wide and deserved popularity in this country."—State Journal.

MEDICAL.—DR. A. S. SMITH, having resumed the Practice of Medicine, solicits a generous share of the patronage of the community. Office in his residence, at St Clairsville.
He would call the attention of the public, and to those more immediately interested to the following: His health being too delicate to bear much of the fatigues and exposures consequent on general practice, he has adopted a speciality in the profession.
Soon after commencing practice, some twenty years since, he was attracted by the almost universality of female complaints, both in the married and single state. Partly from natural inclination, and in order to obtain success in practice, these complaints were made the subject of incessant study. These alterations, displacements and deranged functions of the organs peculiar to the female, are owing to that refined sense of delicacy on the part of the female, who, ignorant of the consequences, prefers to suffer in silence rather than expose her situation. Seldom cured by the general practitioner, who is prevented by this delicacy from acquiring by experience that tact and skill necessary to discriminate the exact change present, and contents himself with prescribing for the deranged functions, or overlooking the cause, simply for attendant nervous disorders, founding his prescriptions on a Plethoric Anaemonic state of the general system and the result is no benefit, as the number of the long suffering females bears ample testimony. Believing that he has, from long and special attention paid to them, acquired that skill in discriminating and experience in treating, he solicits the suffering to give him a call. No charges for consultation or examination. Visits made to all parts of the county.
Applications for medicines can be made in writing by accompanying stamp for return letter.—Medicines sent when desired. TERMS invariably cash for all medicines and instruments.

CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green Book, &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of Self-Abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. THIS LECTURE WILL PROVE A BOON TO THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
THE WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
